WEEKLY MESSAGE: August 21, 2019

HEAD OVERSEER'S WEEKLY MESSAGE

August 21, 2019

We continue this week with our review of The Secret Sayings of Jamil. Please bear in mind that these cryptic lines are very meaningful to those who have been in The Community for some time and may be more of a riddle for those newer to The System. However, they do become clearer as time goes on and one's spiritual development and understanding unfolds.

The Fourth Saying

"'To all those worthy ones who come to the School seeking instruction in the ways of Light, teach them the proper means of realizing their divine origins. They must first fill their beings with the Light of God's New Sun, dispelling the darkness which holds all men of the world. And they will be filled with God's spirit of truth and illuminated with the Image and the Word. By these means they will be born again and learn to speak a language that gives an understanding of the supernatural knowledge of the heavens. Once recreated in Light, they will be freed from the drugs of the senses addicted to the material world. Thus they will be freed from death and partake of their immortality. When this is done they will call the Light their true abode and serve the true God which is spirit and truth. And they shall be instructed in the rites and formulas of God's agents working on the earth. And from the priests and the agents of darkness they shall take away the power to hold sway over the minds and souls of men by the employment of these rites and formulas.

'And God's agents of Light upon the earth will enlighten man, exposing the false gods for what they are: namely, lower entities who have falsely taken the name of the true God. When mankind ceases to worship and adore them they will lose their power over man. And when man extricates himself from this multitude of false gods he will be free to participate in his own immortality and commune with God. Never in all the history of the world has man ever allowed a religion of Light to dominate his societies and institutions. And the dark entities and their agents shall not willingly let go of their followers. And they would work a great harm against men of Light.

'But the magic and the power of the Image and the Word used in conjunction with the energy of the sun by God's agents shall nullify any power used against them. And lest any of God's ministers abuse this mighty power of mystical formulas they shall learn in the school of Light, insist that each emulate the life I exemplified. Teach them the Way of it firstly, for such power has tempted even the gods who even now use this knowledge to dominate mankind. It was for this reason they caused the ancient tablets and scrolls to be destroyed to keep man in ignorance of his rightful powers.'

"And to these words a Companion responded by saying: 'You have not mentioned these magical formulas before. What do they constitute? Are they the secret names of the angels which are mentioned in some of the scrolls, believed to have been left by the Essenes, found in the vicinity of the Dead Sea? Are the formulas alchemical? Hermetic arts of conjuring spirits and the like were highly secret. I believe when Alexander the Great exhumed the tomb of Hermes Trismegistus a great emerald tablet, called Tabula Smaragdina Hermitus, was found on which were symbolic writings, the meaning of which has not survived. Are the formulas mentioned by Jamil hermetic? Did not the Zoroastrians believe that in the final age of the world Zoroaster's mystical writings of the secrets of nature would be recovered from a cave on the peaks of the Thian-Shan range? And, of course, we have the Christian writings that speak of the Seven Great Seals that will be opened in the last days of the world. Apollonious of Tyana refers to a mysterious kind of Divination of the Stars and a system of miracles and of healing. The instituted rites of the Magi at Babylon, and the natural and divine astrology of the Egyptians, the Orphic Mysteries and the Gnostic symbology are all lost to us, but with their repossession man would have great power. Do the Sayings of Jamil refer to these and other Arcana? Can you tell us more on the nature of the magical rites we are to employ?'

"And to this The Man replied that he was not at liberty to tell them. They must first learn how to exemplify the life that Jamil lived, which could very well take the better part of a lifetime, even with total dedication. And when they inquired how they might learn to do so, he told them that the Fifth Saying spoke of this. And the Companions urged him to continue with the reading."

Needless to say, we will continue with the Fifth Saying next week.

August 18, 2019: Chapel Readings

Each week of the liturgical year, a reading from Second Advent Scripture is delivered as part of the Saturday Communion of Fellowship Service held in the Chapel of the Holy Child. This reading follows the Sacred Calendar of the Church; that is, Prophecies and Revelations that have been received by The Church on sacred dates are recalled in a liturgical context during the appropriate season each year. This reading is delivered just before the final blessings. Each service also includes a reading from the ancient scriptures, prayers, or wisdom sayings of various world religions past and present and is usually thematically related to the Second Advent Reading. This reading is delivered by the Reader right after the announcements that begin the service and is thus the first reading of the service. An audio recording of the reading from Second Advent Scripture delivered on the date above is provided here below together with a transcript of the first reading of the service that day.

ANCIENT SCRIPTURE AND WISDOM SAYINGS

A Reading from the Writings of Isaiah:

Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon you.

For behold, the darkness will cover the earth, and gross darkness the people, but the Lord will are upon you, and his glory will be seen upon you.

And the nations will come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.

Lift up your eyes round above and see all they gather themselves together, they come to you, your sons will come from far and your daughters will be nursed at your side.

Then you will see, and flow together, and your heart will fear, and be enlarge, because the abundance of the sea will be converted to you, the forces of the nation will come to you.

Violence will no more be heard in your land, wasting nor destruction within your borders; but you will call your walls Salvation , and the gates Praise.

The sun will be no more your light by day; neither for brightness will the moon give light to you: but the LORD will be to you an everlasting light, and your God you glory.

"Wal Thornhill: Gravitational Accretion Bites the Dust | Space News"

New scientific research into the planet-forming conditions in so-called young star systems has delivered a shocking blow to gravitational accretion theory. In a paper published in the journal Astronomy Astrophysics, scientists described their attempts to determine how much material is present in the disks around stars that are thought to be only 1 to 3 million years old. When they compared their estimates to the masses of star systems that have fully formed planets, they realized that the so-called young stars systems did not have enough matter in their disks to eventually form planets.

Mega-Earth in Draco Smashes Notions of Planetary Formation

by Sheyna E. Gifford, MD for Astrobiology Magazine
Moffet Field CA (NASA) Jun 20, 2014

Worlds like this one aren't supposed to exist. In Draco the Dragon-the 8th largest constellation in our sky-there exists asolid planet weighing close to 17 times as much as Earth. This announcement rocked the scientific world. "We were very surprised when we realized what we had found," said Dr. Xavier Dumusque of the Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics (CfA), who led the analysis that lead to the discovery.

This is the second time the Kepler-10 system has made space history. The first was in 2011, when Kepler-10b, the so-called lava-Earth, was discovered by the Kepler space telescope. That marked the first certain

“Eternal Reality and the Web of Illusion”

“There are in this struggle[1] three factors. (1) the unchanging light of Eternal Reality: that Pure Being ‘which ever shines and naught shall ever dim.’

“(2)The web of illusion, here thick, there thin; which hems in, confuses, and allures the sentient self. “(3) That self, always changing, moving, struggling—always, in fact, becoming—alive in every fiber, related at once to the unreal and to the real; and, with the growth in true being, ever more conscious of the contrast between them.

“In the ever-shifting relationship between these three factors, the consequent energy engendered, the work done, we may find a cause of the innumerable forms of stress and travail which are called in their objective form the Purgative Way. Only one of he three is constant: the Absolute to which the soul aspires. Though all else may fluctuate, that goal is changeless. That beauty so old and so new, ‘with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning,’ which is the One of Plotinus, the All of Eckhart and St. John of the

Eternal Reality

There is little doubt what the eternal reality is. The realm of spirit and the beings that dwell there are eternal. Everything material is temporary. That is one reason why the ancient spiritual leaders called matter illusion.

And when Underhill, and many others, talk of the bright light of that eternal reality, it is both literal and symbolic. Light symbolizes truth and wisdom. The spiritual realm is home to both of those. But it is also a place of bright light. The true image of God is light. The true image of the soul is light. Bright light, spiritual light, not physical light.

WEEKLY MESSAGE: August 14, 2019

HEAD OVERSEER'S WEEKLY MESSAGE

August 14, 2019
Date of the Second Omen, 1955
In continuing our review of The Secret Sayings of Jamil prior to our discourses at this year's annual Convocation, these are the words of the Third Saying. (Once again, please remember that "man" and men" refer to women, as well.)

The Third Saying

The school of enlightenment which shall be brought into existence will be charged with the responsibility of preserving the Teachings of Light for all times. And it shall be obligated to teach all persons who come to the school should they be found worthy. But no person not found worthy should ever be allowed to possess a knowledge of these sacred teachings. We have seen how in ancient times the academies and temples astounded the world with teachings of things of this world and other worlds. Even kings and the masters of the world came humbly to their gates for instruction. Today this knowledge has been lost because men of corruption abused portions of it. This corrupted use of knowledge gave birth to worldly sciences whose adherents have caused man to turn away from sacred things. And like the sciences, modern religion has been corrupted and made worldly. And for this reason religion has ceased to inspire men and caused them to turn away from religion. And dark forces of evil, which is to say those powers not of Light or of God, threaten to pervert men's minds and take over the world. And with the taking they shall destroy civilization and lead it back into an age of darkness that no man can imagine. For it is the nature of man to worship forces beyond the material world. And if man worships not the things of God and of Light, then he shall worship things of the Devil and of Darkness. And if man opens the gates to the Powers of Darkness he unleashes a force which no man knows. Therefore, let the students of the new school serve as agents of the Light, as guardians and protectors of mankind.

"And when The Man put down the codex one asked: 'Were the teachings of Socrates and Plato, as given in the Greek Academy, exemplary of this knowledge spoken of in the Sayings?' And The Man said: 'Socrates and Plato drew upon the ancient teachings of Hermes Trismegistus, Orpheus, Pythagoras, and the Egyptian and Persian schools of the time. Plato and Socrates were not the original source, nor did they adhere to the ethics and codes of the ancient mystery schools. They believed in a more simplified system of instruction which prompted Aristotle to break away altogether from tradition.

His attitude resulted in teachings that led the way for secular scientists who rejected the Word of God, elevating human reason, thought and logic above divine intuition. Here we had the beginning of scientific thought of a perverted and secular line that believed man had the right to use divine knowledge for practical and worldly ends.'

"And another of the Companions asked: 'We moderns are not so enthralled with religion in the orthodox sense. I cannot imagine the rulers of the world today beating a path to the door of any priesthood. Why did they do so in ancient times?' And to this The Man replied that religious institutions of learning have ceased to be disseminators of Light. They have become worldly, dealing with human reason. Divine intuition and spiritual consciousness have no place in a modern university. Theology is taught in a logical manner that appeals to the rational mind or to faith or to the emotions. But in ancient times the priesthood were diviners who had a knowledge of the past and the future. Kings and rulers wanting to know what their destiny was sought answers from the priests or priestesses knowledgeable in such things. Knowledge of divination has failed to come down to the modern Church. Today, no king or ruler of the world requires the services of a theologian to advise him on matters of politics or economics.

"And the skeptical Companion inquired further: 'Do you mean to say, Sir, that the Devil really exists? Are we to believe that the Powers of Darkness actually exist? Do you mean that goblins and entities can obsess the minds of men in this day of science and technology? I thought we left all that behind ages ago.' To this The Man replied: 'If you believe in God and in the Powers of Light, then you must-needs accept that the Powers of Darkness exist. All things have their opposite in this world and the next. Man is regulated and controlled by forces and intelligences outside his own mind and organism to a far greater degree than he knows. I can predict that if man continues to turn away from God, rejecting religion of any kind, the powers of Darkness will come to the forefront to dominate the life of man until he and his world are destroyed. The one single power holding back these forces are the religions of the world, orthodox and unorthodox, old and new. I beg you not to doubt my words.'

"And to this the skeptic said: 'I find it difficult to believe that the modern world will ever again believe in superstition, fable and mythological powers that belong to an age that died out with the coming of scientific thought.'

"And The Man replied: 'All gathered on this hill shall live to see the day when men will again return to worship evil forces of Darkness, rejecting all forms of religious expression, because from Darkness they will obtain power over human minds for sensual and material gain. The establishment of the new school of Light comes at a most opportune time in the evolution of the world.'

"And as all the Companions pondered his words, and no one asked another question."

ANCIENT SCRIPTURE AND WISDOM SAYINGS

A Reading from the Gospel of John:

Father, glorify me in your presence with the glory I had with you before the world began.
I have revealed to you those whom you gave me out of the world. They were yours; you gave them to me and they have obeyed your word.
Now they know that everything you have given me comes from you.
For I gave theme the words you gave me and they accepted them. They knew with certainty that I came from you, and they believed that you sent me.
I pray for them. I am not praying for the world, but for those you have given me, for they are yours.
All I have is yours, and all you have is mine. And glory has come to me through them.
I will remain in the world no longer, but they are still in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, protect them by the power of your name—the name you gave me—so that they may be one as we are one.
While I was with them, I protected them and kept them safe by that name you gave me. None has been lost except the one doomed to destruction so that Scripture would be fulfilled.
I am coming to you now, but I say these things while I am still in the world, so that they may have the full measure of my joy within them.
I have given them your word and the world has hated them, for they are not of the world any more than I am of the world.
My prayer is not that you take them out of the world but that you protect them from the evil one.
They are not of the world, even as I am not of it. Sanctify them by the truth; your word is truth.
As your sent me into the world, I have sent them into the world.

For them I sanctify myself, that they too may be truly sanctified.

My prayer is not for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their message, that all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be one in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me.
I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one:
I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me.

“Ancient stone pillars offer clues of comet strike that changed human history”

Pillar 43, Enclosure D, also known as the Vulture Stone of Göbekli Tepe. Credit: Martin B. Sweatman and Dimitrios Tsikritsis

A team of researchers with the University of Edinburgh has found what they describe as evidence of a comet striking the Earth at approximately the same time as the onset of the Younger Dryas in carvings on an ancient stone pillar in southern Turkey. The group has published their findings in the journal Mediterranean Archaeology and Archaeometry.

Prior evidence based on ice cores taken from Greenland has suggested that a strike by a comet may have led to the onset of the Younger Dryas—a period of Earth cooling that lasted for approximately 1000 years. Other evidence also suggests that the cooling period caused groups of people to band together to cultivate crops, leading to the development of agriculture, which in turn led to huge leaps in technological innovations and societal developments, i.e. Neolithic civilization. In this new effort, the researchers describe evidence they found on a stone pillar at Gobekli Tepe (the oldest known temple site) that aligns with the ice core findings—that a comet struck the Earth in approximately 10,950BC.
