WEEKLY MESSAGE: January 19, 2022

THE SACRED TEACHINGS OF LIGHT

HEAD OVERSEER'S WEEKLY MESSAGE

January 19, 2022

Greetings for the new year. I hope you had a pleasant and wonderful Christmas-Epiphany Season. Thank you for indulging me in my brief sabbatical of the last several weeks. We will now resume our review of The Secret Sayings of Jamil with the Twenty-second Saying.

The Twenty-second Saying (Part 1)

“In the nineteenth year of the New Calendar of the Church of the Second Advent celebrating the birth of God’s Image and Word in the Sun of Righteousness, the twenty-second year following the birth of the Christ Child, Jamil, in the nineteen hundred and eighty-first year of the Christian calendar, The Man returned to the Emerald Isles to join there with his disciples.

“And on the twelfth day of October, following his religious devotions at the rising of the sun, he went in company with two disciples to the landing where the Ship of Light was berthed. The Companions of the Way and The Mariners had assembled to await him, for they had received word of his coming.

“And when he boarded the sacred vessel, his disciples greeted the sage and disciple of Jamil with great thanksgiving, for he was their instructor in the Religion of Light.

“And The Man sat with them, sharing their breakfast of fresh tropical fruit and juices. And when they had finished eating, they began to discourse on the nature of Man’s existence under the New Sun and on the future course of The Church in the world.

“And The Man listened with quiet composure knowing they were prepared in mind for the higher truths of the Sayings of Jamil. He suggested that they leave the Ship, now growing warm under the ascending sun, and seek the cooler regions of a local temple site where he would reveal additional Sayings.

“At noon, The Man with five disciples, one mariner and four Companions of The Way, reached the ruined temple of Puu-O-Mahuka Heiau, the largest on the island of Oahu. Fragrant pineapple plants scented the air. Passing over the enclosures of stone walls overgrown with a heavy mantle of lantana nurtured by abundant rainfall and rich soil, they came to a terraced platform shaded by the spreading branches of a full-grown Java Plum tree heavy with ripe, red fruit. Far below, the glittering blue Pacific, the Sea of Pupukea – the white-shelled sea of olden times – broke over the sandy beach. A light, inshore breeze brought a soothing touch of coolness.

“And the disciples spread colorful blankets upon the green grass and seated themselves comfortably. And The Man sat down on a pile of large rocks facing them. And he looked upon his fellow Companions of The Way who had hushed their voices awaiting the words of their Teacher. It was the fifteen hundred and seventy-ninth day since the Ship of Light had sailed from the mainland, which seemed so long ago, and the eight hundred and sixty-first day in the Emerald Isles, an interval which seemed but a few days.

“The Man knew that the Ship’s visit to the islands was growing short, and that soon The Mariners and The Companions of The Way must-needs depart the islands, forego their wanderings and return to the mainland, and there make their home in the desert sanctuary being prepared for them by The Order.

“Ever since the first visions of the desert sanctuary, and of future things to come to The Order, had come to him some twenty years before, they were as distant dreams, and he did not know how they would be fulfilled. But because of his unshakable faith in the Will of God, and in the Visions, the Prophecies, and the Sayings of The Child, which were revealed in never-failing cyclic events, The Man held firm to living The Way, placing trust in those things foretold and ordained of God.

“Now that the time was growing near to the establishment of the New Nation of God in the vast desert regions of the Nevada plains, his thoughts turned toward all the wandering by land and by sea in his living of the Great Work. He thought of the tomb of Jamil facing the snowy Andes of Peru, and how he had dreaded to leave those remains which brought comforting memories of the physical form of his son whom he had loved so much.

“Yet, a member of The Order must obey the truth and follow The Way instead of following one’s own will prompted by emotions or sympathy or love of the material things that perish. When one dies, the body returns to dust whence it came, but no tomb holds the spirit created by God. This he knew by the presence of Jamil that came to him in the Light where all spiritual beings dwell with God. To follow and obey God's Will by living The Way takes all of one's discipline and concentration, and it is only by this discipline that one keeps from falling back into the old ways of the world, ways which can have but one final ending. This ending was preached against by all the Holy Ones inflamed with the Image and Word of God come to them in their own times, for they preached that God's Will is irresistible and no earthly power can subdue it.

"Looking upon the faces of The Companions of The Way, he saw hope in their eyes and he realized that the future of The Church was in the combined efforts of the members of The Order. God's Will would be fulfilled by The Order. He was therefore resolved to relinquish thoughts of wandering over the face of the earth and to establish the Great School of Light as ordained – to build the Nation of God by teaching the members of both sexes come to The Order. In this way teachers could be trained. By becoming versed in the Scripture and Teachings of The Community; becoming wise in the living of The Way in accordance with its Codes, Institutes, Precepts, Concepts and Ethics; becoming learned in the Statutes and Judgements of God; and strengthened by their mutual unity, teachers could go forth to the four quarters of the world and instruct all the races of humanity in the Doctrines of the Religion of Light, thus spreading the Truth of the Revelations and Prophecies and Sayings so that all might become citizens of the Nation of Righteousness under God's Image and Word manifest in the spiritual Sun of Righteousness.

"But before the roots of the new religion could be firmly planted in the desert, it was essential that the disciples come to him for instruction and be taught in accordance with the giving of the Sayings at the pre-ordained time and place; for all things prophesied in the lifetime of the Church of the First Dispensation and that of the Second Dispensation of God's Second Advent must needs be fulfilled in accordance with the cyclic period assigned to them."

We will get to the Saying itself next week.

Again, if I may be of any personal service to you, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Very truly yours in Light+,

Gene

“Winnemucca Petroglyphs |
Were The Oldest Rock Carvings

Giants?"

During the 2019 Convocation, a group of the attendees visited the petroglyph site near Winnemucca Lake in Nevada. The previous year, the investigators of Megalithomania in the United Kingdom visited the site as well and created a video of the site and commented on the petroglyphs.

In June 2018 Hugh Newman and JJ Ainsworth investigated America's oldest petroglyphs near Winnemucca Lake in Nevada and were astonished by the size of them, the deep carvings and complexity of what they saw, and how similar they are to ancient rock art in Ireland and other areas of the ancient world. They are located in the vicinity of legendary red-haired giants and could well have been carved by these prehistoric titans. Researchers at the University of Colorado, Boulder conducted a study that dated the rock carvings to between 10,500 and 14,800 years ago. Larry Benson found that the rocky outcrop was exposed at both these times from the water in the lake so the giant petroglyphs could have been carved during either of these periods. The carvings include the earliest example of 'cup marks' that are also found at Gobekli Tepe in Turkey (9,600 BC). Hugh also discovered something remarkable on the nearby dry lake bed, a huge geoglyph of spiralling circles, that has never before been reported. Please take notice that permission was granted from a Paiute elder at the Pyramid Lake Visitors Center, who, with his grandson, showed us exactly where the site was and we followed the car to the site.

“Musical Stones and Powerful Crystals”

"History records the existence of stones which, when struck, threw all who heard the sound into a state of ecstasy. There were also echoing images which whispered for hours after the room itself had become silent, and musical stones productive of the sweetest harmonies. In recognition of the sanctity which the Greeks and Latins ascribed to stones, they placed their hands upon certain consecrated pillars when taking an oath. ...

"Divination by stones was often resorted to by the Greeks, and Helena is said to have foretold by lithomancy the destruction of Troy. Many popular superstitions about stones survived the so-called Dark Ages. Chief among these is the one concerning the famous black stone in the seat of the coronation chair in Westminster Abbey, which is declared to be the actual rock used by Jacob as a pillow. The black stone also appears several times in religious symbolism. ... The black stone in the Kaaba at Mecca is still revered throughout the Mohammedan world. It is said to have been white originally and of such brilliancy that it could be seen many days' journey from Mecca, but as ages passed it became blackened by the tears of pilgrims and the sins of the world." ~Manly P. Hall

Musical Stone Circles

There have been many theories about the stone formation in England known as Stonehenge. One of the newest is that the stones were struck with hammers during certain ceremonies to create a ringing sound that produced the type of ecstasy Hall is talking about. And Stonehenge is by no means the only ancient circle of stones found in the British Isles and elsewhere. It is possible that in many of them, the stones were used to produce sounds, as well as for other things like marking solar positions.

Modern Musical Stones

While it may have been true that the stones in some stone circles were used to produce a kind of music, no one seems to be doing that today. There is a modern variation, however: crystal bowls. Crystal singing bowls are made of quartz crystal and are played by rubbing a hard rubber striker around the edge or along the sides. This produces a vibrational sound that is very powerful.

Divination by Stones

I had not heard of lithomancy until I read the quote from Hall. Apparently, this involved putting stones of different colors in a bag and pulling one out to get an answer to a question or to determine if an accused criminal was guilty. While this is not done today, many do use crystals and gems, which are a special kind of stone, for divination and other spiritual purposes. Crystals can be used to help charge weak energy centers. For that purpose, you usually use a crystal or gem with the same color as the energy center you want to charge. They can also be programmed to protect you from malevolent beings and forces. We can't be awake and alert all day and night, but the crystals can be programmed to protect us when we are asleep or not on guard.

Black Stone in Westminster Abbey

The black stone that was considered the coronation stone for the Kings of Scotland was called the stone of destiny. Many historians today say the stone that is currently there is a different one substituted in the thirteenth century. The legend doesn't say what effect, if any, this stone had on the king being coronated.

Black Stone in the Kaaba

The Black Stone in the Kaaba is a real thing also. It was claimed by some to have originally been given to Adam and Eve to use as a guide to building an altar.

The Origins of Cosolargy

Quotes from Gene Savoy, Sr.

BIRTH OF THE CHILD ANNOUNCED

The Angel continued speaking to The Man's Eternal Consciousness, all the while holding his spiritual hands. "An illuminated one, self-generated, and pre-existent, is destined to come into the world as the revealer of a new teaching to fulfill the old. God shall send him clothed as an innocent child, and from him will come a pure Teaching. And all the Prophets of all times will honor and acknowledge him as the Light of the world, for he shall be a king from The Sun.

"You will meet a woman of the world and, taking her as your wife, unite with her. And she shall receive your seed – which shall be blessed with the spark of life – and conceive a male child, the last she will bear. The Child will walk among mortals for less than four years from the moment of his conception. Prophecies will come forth for 42 months. And during those twelve hundred and sixty days a great prophecy will be given to the Churches of the world, representing the whole family of nations, and the Seven Great Seals will be broken, and the Sacred Book of God revealed to the world of man.

"His sign will be the Cross of Enlightenment and the New Sun of Righteousness that will appear in great glory to alleviate the sufferings of mankind. He shall be accompanied by a multitude of Great Ones. The Child will usher in a New Age for mankind. You have been chosen to be his earthly guardian – take care lest the forces of evil seek to do him harm before his time.

“ANCIENT DEFORESTATION AND BABYLON / Tartaria Exposed!”

In this video, the people at Mind Unveiled on YouTube cover the recent deforestation of Ireland and Britain and the effect that this had on magic:

“The trees inspired us in many ways through spirit, music, and wisdom. This music developed into a magical language that allowed the user to obtain a magical consciousness. The language allowed for powerful magi to affect the material realm in ways that aren’t fully possible now. An ancient peoples spread this knowledge of language, music, and spirituality around the world leading to the commonly known story of Babylon. The prime example for the intellect. This all changed after a psychic cataclysmic event that resulted in the confusion of languages.

“The elite Hebrew priests knew the power that words contained so the ancient Phoenicians edited this ancient magical language and began suppressing the knowledge of magic. Our words have become out of tune, out of alignment and now more than ever we need to reconnect with our higher faculties. We must break away from the constrictions of modern language and strive to develop our inner being.”

Kindness is Proper Behavior

"The true joy of a person is to do that which properly belongs to a person. That which is most proper is, first, to be kindly affected towards them that are of the same kind and nature as he himself, to condemn all sensual motions and appetites, to discern rightly all plausible fancies and imaginations, to contemplate the nature of the universe; both it and things that are done in it. In this kind of contemplation, three separate relations are to be observed. The first, to the apparent secondary cause. The second, to the first original cause, God, from whom proceeds whatever happens in the world. The third and last, to them that we live and converse with: what use may be made of it, to their use and benefit.

"Wipe off all idle fancies, and say to thyself incessantly; now if I will, it is in my power to keep out of this my soul all wickedness, all lusts, all trouble, and confusions. But on the contrary to behold and consider all things according to their true nature, and to carry myself towards everything according to its true worth. Remember this thy power that nature has given thee."[\[1\]](#) ~Marcus Aurelius

Do What is Proper

It makes sense that we should do what is proper in all circumstances, but it isn't done as simply as it is said. First, we do not always know what is the right thing to do in all circumstances, and second, even when we do, there is a part of us that wants us to do otherwise, and sometimes that part wins out. It is unlikely that we will always do what is proper, but we can, at the end of each day, evaluate our actions for the day, and when we did something improper, vow to do better the next time. As humans, we have both an angelic and an animalistic nature and we can't simply shut down the animal nature. What we need to do is awaken the Soul so it can control the ego which is the driving force through which our animal nature works. That doesn't mean we destroy the ego. The ego is a needed part of us in order to function in the physical world. It is to be controlled, not destroyed.

Be Kind

Aurelius is certainly correct in saying that the first thing that is proper behavior for a person is to be kind, or, as he words it, "be kindly affected." Most of us will probably say that we are kind, but the question to follow up with is, "To whom and under what circumstances?" Few of us are kind to everyone, even fewer are kind to everyone under all circumstances. Unfortunately, we live in a materialistic world that wants us all to function as competitors. We are led to believe there is not enough to go around of just about anything, so we need to compete for it. This competitive attitude gives the greedy people the edge, and they often grab far more than they need, or can even use. The result is artificial shortages created by the greedy. But this insane way of living is beginning to be exposed as a failed paradigm, and people are learning that cooperation in which we all get a fair share works better, is less stressful and less violent, and does allow us to be kind to everyone. We can even be kind to former competitors as we now see them as people with similar needs rather than the competition.

Nature of the Universe

Aurelius also advises us to contemplate the nature of the universe, and apparently behave accordingly. But to do that properly, we must be aware that there are at least two different universes, one physical and one spiritual. In the physical universes, it is easy to get the impression that it is a dog-eat-dog, every-man-for-himself kind of environment. While that is true, it is only part of the story. There are plenty of people, animals, and plants that do not behave in that way, or at least not very often, and still succeed. On the other hand, there are those who constantly act as if everything must be fought for at any cost, yet they are not really doing well at all. This may be because the physical universe and the spiritual one occupy the same space and affect each other. Thus, a spiritual being that follows God's Law may see great success on both the spiritual and physical levels, even though he is kind and non-competitive in the physical world. In fact, while some who choose to develop their spiritual self over the physical self live in physical poverty, others live in reasonable comfort without being greedy. Awakening our spiritual faculties helps us understand both universes better, and with knowledge and understanding comes real success, spiritual success, and success that isn't greed.

[\[1\]](#) I have taken the liberty of modernizing some of the language in the quote to make it more readable.
