

Joseph Roy Receives Rite of Confirmation and Anointing

On February 20, 2021 the Rite of Confirmation was held in private ceremonies in the Head Bishop's chambers for Joseph Roy, the son of Reverends Noriko and Robert Roy. The parents, Robert and Noriko, and Bishop Gene chose the date because it is the 59th anniversary of the "Commencement of The Great Work" in 1962.

Following the private ceremony, Joseph was presented publicly to the congregation in the Chapel of the Holy Child prior to the service of Communion. His confirmation and presentation indicates that he is now able to take and receive communion of fellowship on his own.

The child was received joyfully into the congregation, and the congregation was invited to attend a reception in the vestibule in their honor following the service of Communion.

“Holy Grail Found”

This video shows how a team of geobiologists began to unravel some secrets and ancient mysteries by investigating ancient straight tracks and their link with ultra-low frequency sounds that seemed to be coming from the center of the Earth.

The team's strategy was to look for a major intersection of these tracks and sounds and this resulted in them coming across a new archaeological investigation, the largest Bronze Age city in Europe. The location of this Bronze age site had the scientists puzzled as it was not where they would have expected to find a city, until the team was investigating tracks further afield and came across a Templar connection.

The following is an exchange between the editor and Sonatherapist Gary Buchanan on this video in 2019.

Editor: It seemed to me this video may be of interest to you because the grail image and the ley lines connecting holy sites are all related to a harmonic grid and sound waves in this story.

Gary: The earth does make infrasonic signals. The surface does organize as geodesic triangulations, etc. John Reid in England, for example, has been recording these sounds found at the standing stones for decades. The ley lines correspond to these geodesics all over the planet. This is one of the ways in Chachapoyas we could align between and around ruins and figure out where the other ruins should be. Most of the ancients knew about this and followed those lines. They are the basis of layouts of most civilizations.

The vortexial (grail) shape they discuss is also found in all the Cymatics we do, as well. And, it is the low, infrasonic, signals that give the best shapes – and also the best healing in Sonatherapy. This is exactly what we have been saying and talking about for a long time. As for this being THE “Holy Grail” of the Templars? Well, a bit far fetched, in my humble opinion. There are surely a great many places where this pattern could be found in common, and of great strength – and, yes, seasonal – linked with “high holy days” and others.

Editor: Do you know of any other videos that discuss these infrasonic signals and figures that may be better or more informative than this video?

Gary: I do not know of any other videos about this. Most of the research I have done on infrasound goes back decades. It is discussed in my books, and those of others, but is generally not talked about so much.

“Unity of Will for Spiritual Success”

“Use only one vessel, one fire, one instrument.

“The door to success lies in the unity of will and purpose and the proper adaptation of the means to the end. There are many roads leading to the celestial center. He who follows the chosen path may succeed, while he who attempts to walk on many paths will be delayed.

“If the molten metals are allowed to cool off before they are transformed into higher ones, they will become hard again, and the whole process will have to be recommenced from the beginning. Use the inextinguishable lamp. Its light will not go out unless it is driven away by force.

“Recognize the true Prima Materia. It is to be found everywhere, but if you do not find it in your own house, you will find it nowhere. It is a living substance that can be discovered only in places inhabited by man. It is the only substance from which the Philosopher’s Stone can be prepared, and without that substance no genuine silver or gold can be made. In thirty pounds of ordinary mercury, there is usually not more than one pound of the true substance, and a hundred pounds of ordinary sulfur usually contains not more than one pound of that which is useful. It can only be found above the earth, not below it. It is before everybody’s eyes; no one can live without it; everybody uses it; the poor usually possess more of it than the rich; ... it can be perceived by the sense of feeling, but it cannot be seen with the material eye.” ~Franz Hartmann

One Vessel, One Fire

Hartmann is saying that if you are seeking true spiritual growth rather than just studying the teachings out of curiosity, you must choose a particular school or discipline and follow it completely and regularly. If you find at some point that you made a bad choice, move on to a different school, but don’t just jump willy-nilly from one school to another, one method to another. Let’s consider the issue with an analogy.

A man who is by profession a home construction engineer wants to build himself a house. He starts by laying out a few boards and making a partial frame. But then decides a brick house would be better. So he starts laying bricks but does only a few dozen before he decides stone would be better than brick, so he tears down the brick and starts again with stone. If he continues on like this, not only will he not get the best home possible, he won't get one at all! He has to make a firm decision and stick with it. The same for choosing a spiritual school or spiritual discipline to follow.

Cosolargy Newsletter 2021 Issue 2

COSOLARGY INTERNATIONAL
THE SACRED TEACHINGS OF LIGHT

COSOLARGY NEWSLETTER February 2021

Greetings!

Welcome to our monthly bulletin with information of interest to friends of Cosolargy International. In this issue we bring you up to date with current and future events and provide a little background on our founder, the late Gene Savoy Sr, and his explorations into solar cultures, along with some uplifting words of inspiration.

If you are curious about the solar techniques and activities of our Community, contact us by using the Contact Form on the Cosolargy International website. It will be forwarded to the appropriate representative for your area.

In these trying times, if you would like to have a prayer said for you or others, click the Prayer Request button at the end of this newsletter.

The Origins of Cosolargy

Back in 1947, when Gene Savoy Sr. was a university student preparing for a religious vocation, he was privileged to receive private tutoring from a Monsignor of the Catholic Church, Father John B. Delaunay, Jesuit priest and distinguished psychologist.

Father Delaunay encouraged Savoy to continue his private studies, because something in his writings fascinated him. He said that though Teilhard de Chardin's writings went against orthodoxy, that did not mean that all priests agreed with the Vatican decision affecting them.

At this time Delaunay told Savoy of the underground Charismatic Church at work. He called it the "invisible Church of Christ laboring in the world." The priest explained that this unorganized Church had been a work for some time and would one day bring changes not only upon the Church, but to Christianity and religion as a whole. He felt that this was where Savoy was destined to work, not in the priesthood of the organized Church.

More and more Savoy shared his thoughts and ideas with the sympathetic priests, learned in Sacred Theology and Canon Law, who listened to his opinions on theological concepts of Teilhard's faith, that portion known in those early days dealing with the future evolution of man. Young Savoy spoke of a spiritual world beyond the physical one, a world of unseen forces and invisible energies that emanate from within the Godhead. It seemed likely to him, he would say, that God was separate from the material world, and only the human spirit and soul were part of that spiritual world.

WEEKLY MESSAGE: February 24, 2021

CÔSOLARGY INTERNATIONAL

HEAD OVERSEER'S WEEKLY MESSAGE

February 24, 2021

We will be concluding our review of the Seventeenth Saying of Jamil over the next several weeks. As you can see, the commentary is one of the longer ones. I anticipate there will be about 20 parts in total. So, let us continue with The Man still speaking to the Companions of The Way.

The Seventeenth Saying (Part 13)

“Some people believe that God is everywhere, and that everyone is heir to goodness and will attain his or her immortality without any kind of effort, without any kind of legitimate development on his or her part. They believe that a person will become immortal and exist with God in the future. There is no proof, scientific or otherwise, for this. Man does have responsibility in the cosmos. Man is not as a dumb animal, allowed to do what he will when he wants to without consequence. Man is responsible for his acts, and any misconduct on his part will certainly be dealt with by the laws of God. You have all seen how the light of the sun, its brilliance, and its field, can be altered by the environment. If one is in an environment such as a bank, lawyer's office, hospital, or similar places, and looks at the sun, one will find that the sun is very harsh. The result can be a headache. If you are at a temple, or in a park outside of the confines of a city, you will find that the sun is bland, easy to look at, and the result is a beneficial response of the sun. What does this tell us? It means that Consciousness, Intellect, mind, emotion – all of our states and degrees of life – affect us and our environment, and can affect our states of being.

“For example, the sun can be many things to many people. The sun can be very benevolent to one person in a benevolent environment and very adverse or damaging to another person in a negative environment. It is like looking into a magic mirror. You see the true image in reverse. This is a very important point to remember. Adepts learn, from the moment of their initiation into the Order, that they cannot fool the sun. They cannot deceive the face of God. They cannot look at the Eye of God without being observed for what they are. This indicates that Man is a responsible creature and dictates, in accordance with divine laws of the universe, what his destiny will be in this life and beyond.

“‘An evil person may see a Christ being as a very ugly creature that makes him very nervous and upset. He does not want that being around him. A spiritual person will see a Christ person for what he or she is. A spiritual person will see the Sun of Righteousness in all its glory and splendor. As if drinking from a fountain of Light, a spiritual person will be restored and invigorated by the beauty and brilliance of the Sun. An evil person who looks upon the face of the sun will see nothing but a brilliant orb that can blind him. Again, the Sun, God, and beings in Christ are not the same thing to all people.’”

Many of you have inquired about Convocation this year, and we have had some preliminary discussions in this regard. I will be getting more information to you next week, so please bear with us. We appreciate your patience. Thank you.

Again, if I may be of any personal service to you, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Very truly yours in Light+,

Gene

“The Ark Before Noah”

Irving Finkel is a renowned expert and literate in the ancient written language of cuneiform.

He teaches classes on how to write cuneiform and is the leading authority on the history of board games.

He is an Assistant Keeper at the British Museum.

Here are a few comments regarding Finkel's lecturing skills:

"This guy could talk about paint drying and I'd listen."

"I loved listening to him, it's like Monty Python + archeology."

"Someone get this man a TED talk, a TV Series and a Movie deal"

Below is a summary and link to his 2016 talk "The Ark before Noah: A Great Adventure":

The recent translation of a Babylonian tablet launches a groundbreaking investigation into one of the most famous stories in the world, challenging the way we look at ancient history. A world authority on ancient Mesopotamia, Irving Kinkel found himself playing detective when a member of the public arrived at the museum with an intriguing cuneiform tablet from a family collection. Not only did the tablet reveal a new version of the Babylonian Flood Story; the ancient poet described the size and completely unexpected shape of the ark, and gave detailed boat building specifications. Decoding this ancient message wedge by cuneiform wedge, Dr. Finkel discovered where the Babylonians believed the ark came to rest and developed a new explanation of how the old story ultimately found its way into the Bible. In The Ark Before Noah, Dr. Finkel takes us on an adventurous voyage of discovery, opening the door to an enthralling world of ancient voices and new meanings.

“Ship of God on a Stormy Sea”

THE SHIP OF GOD

"Deep companion of the beings of light! In your mercy, give me your strength and help me with your own hand. Dress my soul, O Lord, and speak to me. Help me when enemies close in. ... Beneficent friend, free me. My soul is crying in my body at every blow and dagger stab. My hour of life and this form in flesh is over, and all its days of turbulence. ... Springs of darkness opened, and the giant fishes transfixed me with fear. My soul fainted before those dreadful forms, hideous to look at. Their bodies lack a human shape. These are the demons, the banished princes, transfixing me with terror. ... They rose to drown me. In every neighborhood there were storm winds. Rain, the mist of all fogs, lightning and drums of thunder, shores of clouds, hail, crashing sea. The skiff rose over the crest of a wave and glided into a hidden trough. ... With the drownings the sails swallowed water, and the masts shook together in the turmoil. The rudders dropped into the sea. Those left on board turned to stone. Redemption became a habit. From every source the wind blew the prison locks loose. Stars whirled wildly about, planets fell out of orbit. The earth shuddered, as did my foundation. Lofty heavens sank. ... The wheel of the zodiac lost its course. The seal of my feet and joints of my toes, every link of my soul's life was loosened. Each joint of my hands and fingers was loosened and its seal taken off. Their meaty life grew feeble. My limbs fell cold. My knees froze together in fear. In my legs the strength was struck and drained away. When I saw the dark, the strength in my limbs collapsed, and my soul moaned at all its opposing forms. Who will save me? Who will save me; make a new way? ... Who will rip off this body and dress me in a new one? After I spoke with trembling soul I saw the savior.

"After I spoke with trembling soul I saw the savior and saw his helmsmen, who came down to dress my soul. I raised my eyes that way and saw deaths hidden by the envoy. Hurt was remote. So too sickness and distress. Their vision left, their darkness fled. Everything was holy and unsurpassed. Light shone elating and lovely, swelling my mind with gladness." ~Parthian Songs

Ship of God?

This Parthian Manichean song is titled The Ship of God, yet when you read the first part of it, you would think it is more like the ship of Satan. In fact, it almost seems that the first part of the song is talking about a completely different ship than the final section. In truth, there is no ship at all, it is pure allegory. The allegory could represent the material world or the human soul. Both interpretations seem to work. This might be better titled Ship of God on the Sea of Satan.
