

“Webb Space Telescope Tracks Fireworks Around Our Galaxy’s Black Hole”

The supermassive black hole at the center of our Milky Way galaxy may not be as voracious as the gas-gobbling monsters that astronomers have seen farther out in the universe, but new findings from NASA’s James Webb Space Telescope reveal that its surroundings are flaring with fireworks.

JWST’s readings in two near-infrared wavelengths have documented cosmic flares that vary in brightness and duration.

COSOLARGY NEWSLETTER MARCH 2025

Hello Gene,

Welcome to our monthly bulletin with information of interest to friends of Cosology International. In this issue, we bring you up to date with current and future events and provide a little background on our founder, the late Gene Savoy Sr, and his explorations into solar cultures, along with some uplifting words of inspiration.

If you are curious about the solar techniques and activities of our Community, contact us by using the Contact Form on the Cosology International website. It will be forwarded to the appropriate representative for your area.

In these trying times, if you would like to have a prayer said for you or others, click the Prayer Request button at the end of this newsletter.

The Origins of Cosology

Quotes from Gene Savoy, Sr.

"An aroma of azahares, roses, and gardenias perfumed the ether. And when the remains of the Lustrous One+ were brought down, a radiant Light+ shone about his figure, golden like the sun, and they believed his soul had returned. And they likened him unto a saint, for none had seen such beauty before. Lovingly, they wrapped him in cloth and covered his yellow ringlets of hair with a headpiece, placing his remains in a wooden casket lined with soft material of perfect white. And they placed therein offerings of perfume, incense, and flowers. Having done these things they covered the box with glass, for they could not bring themselves to hide his loving face that reflected the benevolent rays of the sun.

"At high noon, the mourners set off on foot toward the high hill overlooking the city, followed by a delegation of villagers. There they would entomb the earthly remains of Jamil+ in an unmarked tomb prepared by stone masons. The Man [Gene Savoy, Sr.] had selected the hill, so often frequented by Jamil+ in life, where the eucalyptus grew. Arriving at the foot of the hill, the procession stopped. The villagers treated them with consideration and left The Man, The Woman, The Youth, The Nurse, the rest of the Companions, and a single stone mason to continue on; for they respected their grief".

A Priest of the Lord

"I am a priest of the lord and serve him as priest. I offer him the offering of his thought. His thought is not like the world, not of the flesh or of those who serve in the flesh. The lord offers his goodness, his stainless heart and lips, his inner world that is faultless. Let hearts not oppress hearts, nor souls harm souls. Don't bribe a stranger, because that stranger is you. Don't trick your neighbor. Don't take the clothing from him that hides his nakedness, but dress in the grace of the lord generously and walk in paradise and from his tree make a garland for your head. Loop it around your hair. Be happy and rest in his rest. His glory will go before you. You will inhabit his kindness and grace and be fat in truth with the praise of his holiness. Praise and honor his name. I raised my arms high to the grace of the lord, for he cast off my bonds. My helper had raised me to his grace and salvation. I discarded darkness and dressed in the clothing of light. My soul acquired a body free from sorrow, free from torture and mutilation. The lord's thought restored me. I fed on his incorruptible fellowship. In the light he raised me. I went to him, near him, praising and shouting his name. He made my heart flood into my mouth. I was rescued from my chains and fled to you, my god. You are the right hand of my salvation and my helper. You held back those who rose against me and they disappeared. Your face was with me. I was saved by your grace. But in the eyes of many I was abhorred and excluded. In their eyes I was lead. I assumed strength from you and drank your help."

-Songs of Solomon

I Serve God as a Priest

The function of a priest or minister is to serve God. We serve God by obeying His will and by doing His work on earth. We also serve God by sending thoughts of Peace, Love, Joy, and Truth to others. When we help the downtrodden, the rejects of the social system, and those who are ill or handicapped, we are serving God. Most of all, we help God when we help others turn away from materialism and toward the spiritual life that God wants all of us to have.

His World is Faultless

God's World, also called the Kingdom of God or heaven, is faultless. It is a place where there is no death, no disease and no suffering. It is a place of Truth where no lies exist. It is also a place of Knowledge. Knowledge of all that is real. It is not a place of rest. The souls who have reached that level still continue to work helping others.

That Stranger is You

When you bribe a stranger, trick your neighbor, or cheat another person, you are only doing it to yourself. That is because, ultimately, we are all part of the One Whole creation of God. The modern science of Quantum Physics has shown that things can be connected together, even at a great distance. But in actual fact, all things are connected together in the great matrix of life. So, even when you harm an animal, you are hurting yourself.

Discard Darkness and Dress in Light

Some people who think they are spiritual believe we need to accept Darkness as a part of what we are just as much as Light. That philosophy is wrong. We do need to acknowledge that we have a dark side, but we don't embrace it; we discard it as much as possible, as the quote says. There will always be some darkness in us, but we should not let it get its way. When we slip up and do something dark, we should forgive ourselves and embrace the Light. Don't give up on yourself just because you slip a little. Keep moving forward to the Light. That is how you live as a priest of God.

“An Unfinished Detector has Already Spotted the Highest-Energy Neutrino Ever Seen”

When it comes to particles, only photons are more abundant than neutrinos, yet detecting neutrinos is extremely difficult. Scientists have gone to extreme lengths to detect them, including building neutrino observatories in deep, underground mines and in the deep, clear ice of Antarctica.

One of their latest efforts to detect neutrinos is KM3NeT, which is still under construction at the bottom of the Mediterranean Sea. Though the neutrino telescope isn't yet complete, it has already detected the most energetic neutrino ever detected.

“Radiation From an Exploding Star May Have Altered Evolution on Earth”

If a star explodes in space and no one is around to see it, does it wreak a change on terrestrial evolution?

Yes, maybe – if you’re a microbe quietly minding your own business in Lake Tanganyika in the highlands of eastern Africa.

A new study has found that an explosion in virus diversity 2.5 million years ago in Lake Tanganyika occurred at the same time radiation from an ancient supernova bathed Earth in cosmic rays.

“NASA May Have Found The Fastest Planetary System We’ve Ever Seen”

In the Milky Way’s central bulge, about 24,000 light-years from Earth, a peculiar pair of objects appears to be hurtling through space at breakneck speed.

Evidence suggests these objects are a high-velocity star and its accompanying exoplanet, a new study reports. If that’s confirmed, it would set a new record as the fastest-moving exoplanet system known to science.
