NASA’s Curiosity rover has taken a picture of a strange Martian structure that one expert has dubbed the ‘most bizarre’ she’s ever seen.

Images snapped by the car-sized robot appear to show spikes protruding from a rock lying at the base of the 96 mile-long (154 km) Gale Crater.

They were taken using Curiosity's mast camera and ChemCam on Martian day Sol 3786, or April 1, and have sparked speculation online as to what they may depict.

A Reading From the Prophet Isaiah with Commentary

"The spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord has anointed me.

"He has sent me to bring good news to the oppressed, to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives and release to the prisoner:

"To proclaim the year of the Lord's favor and day of our God.

"To comfort all who mourn; to provide for those who mourn, to give them a garland instead of ashes, the oil of gladness instead of mourning, the mantle of praise instead of a faint spirit.

“They will be called “oaks of righteousness”, the planting of the Lord, to display his glory.

“They shall build up the ancient ruins, they shall raise up the former devastations, they shall repair the ruined cities, the devastations of many generations.

“Strangers shall stand and feed your flock, foreigners shall till your land and dress your vines; but you shall be called the priest of the Lord.

“You shall enjoy the wealth of nations, and in their riches, you shall glory.

“Because their shame was double, and dishonor was proclaimed as their lot, they shall possess a double portion, everlasting joy shall be theirs.

“For I the Lord love justice, I will faithfully give them their recompense and will make an everlasting covenant with them.

“Their descendants shall be known among nations, and their offspring among the peoples; all who see them shall acknowledge that they are the people whom the Lord has blessed.

“I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my whole being shall exult in my God; for he has clothed me with the garments of salvation, he has covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decks himself with a garland, and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

“So the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring up before all the nations.” ~Isaiah 61:1- 11

The Spirit is On Me

Isaiah says that “ The spirit of the Lord God is upon me,” which seems to many to be an odd way to word it. Most would say that the spirit is in me, not on me. But Isaiah may be saying it better than most because a spirit is not something that can be trapped inside the body like a bird in a cage. Spirits exist outside of the limits of time and space, so his spirit is just as much on him as it is in him. As for saying that it is the spirit of God that is on him, he means that his awakened spirit is aware that it is part of God and is linked to God. That does not mean he should call himself God, and Isaiah is too wise to do so.

Good News to the Oppressed

God always sends good news to the oppressed. He sends good news to all, but especially to the oppressed. Those who are oppressed, pushed aside, and ignored on earth, are often the ones who are failures at the false religion of materialism. That is a good thing, as far as God is concerned. Those who have earthly success and abundance rarely bother to even consider developing their spiritual Self. It is the downtrodden, the sick, and the poor who will probably turn to God and seek spiritual enlightenment.

Day of Our God

When Isaiah wrote this, he may have been talking about something in his own time, but this could have been written today. We are living in the End Times and are now under the Sun of Righteousness—the Spiritual Sun with the Presence of God. This is the time that the prophet Malachi wrote about. It is a time for spiritual awakening. It is the last chance for humanity to save itself. And the sooner we do so, the better, because those who do so early, will be able to help and lead others in the coming Golden Age.

Rejoice in the Lord

We should rejoice that God continues to love and forgive us and give us the opportunity to save ourselves. Of course, it is God who does the actual saving, but we must each turn to him and seek it. Then God will cover us with the robes of righteousness, and eventually, we will have a world of peace, love, and righteousness where there will be no place for materialists, warmongers, and other soldiers of Darkness, for darkness will have been defeated.

“Strong stellar winds create the butterfly nebula that makes people fall in love”

The butterfly nebula, also known as the Twin Jet Nebula, is a striking and beautiful astronomical object that is created by the powerful stellar winds of a dying star. As the star nears the end of its life, it begins to shed its outer layers of gas, which are then blown away by the star's intense winds.

The interaction between these winds and the surrounding interstellar gas creates the complex and intricate patterns of the butterfly nebula. The wings of the nebula are shaped by the interaction between the stellar winds and the surrounding gas, while the central region is thought to be shaped by the powerful magnetic fields of the dying star.

“Oldest Homo sapiens fossil claim rewrites our species’
History”

Researchers say that they have found the oldest Homo sapiens remains on record in an improbable place: Morocco.

At an archaeological site near the Atlantic coast, finds of skull, face and jaw bones identified as being from early members of our species have been dated to about 315,000 years ago. That indicates H. sapiens appeared more than 100,000 years earlier than thought: most researchers have placed the origins of our species in East Africa about 200,000 years ago.

“Asteroid Phaethon Gets Weirder”

We've known for a while that asteroid 3200 Phaethon acts like a comet. It brightens and forms a tail when it's near the sun. And it's the source of the annual Geminid meteor shower, even though comets are responsible for most meteor showers. Scientists blamed Phaethon's comet-like behavior on dust escaping from the asteroid as it's scorched by the sun. However, a new study using two NASA solar observatories reveals that Phaethon's tail is not dusty at all. In fact, it's made of sodium gas.

Hello Gene,

Welcome to our monthly bulletin with information of interest to friends of Cosolargy International. In this issue, we bring you up to date with current and future events and provide a little background on our founder, the late Gene Savoy Sr, and his explorations into solar cultures, along with some uplifting words of inspiration.

If you are curious about the solar techniques and activities of our Community, contact us by using the Contact Form on the Cosolargy International website. It will be forwarded to the appropriate representative for your area.

In these trying times, if you would like to have a prayer said for you or others, click the Prayer Request button at the end of this newsletter.

The Origins of Cosolargy

Quotes from Gene Savoy, Sr.

"On Christmas night, The Child Jamil sat at the table with those who had gathered around him. And there were eight. The table was laden with fruits and nuts, cakes and candies, corn, rice and potatoes, bread and sweet wine. And The Man [Gene Savoy, Sr.] was asked to say grace over the food, and he hesitated, saying: 'Think now, my beloved companions, of the thing you ask.

"Does not the whole world participate in an unending cannibalism, each thing living off another—slaughtering animal, fish, or fowl, grain, and vine? Know that the wheat and the vine, the cane and the tree, and the fruits thereof were sacrificed for this meal. Did they not have a right to live? Do not the sacrificed have a place before God? While God is present in all living things, indeed in all creation, , God is separate from it and transcends it. Who, then, sustain the eater? Whom should we thank for nourishment?' Then he broke bread and and raised a cup of wine, adding: 'We are taught that this bread and this wine can be changed into the body and blood of the New and Eternal Covenant which is Christ. We are also taught that, except as we eat the flesh of man, and drink his blood, we have not life in ourselves.' And they were all silent, everyone, and perplexed; for they had been taught to say grace and partake of Holy Communion.

"And The Man, speaking for The Child sought to explain his words, and he said: 'We are taught that all things are cleansed with the shedding of Jesus' blood and that through this blood we receive eternal redemption from sin, that when the bread and wine are consecrated and taken into us, we achieve a spiritual union with God. Is such union attained by the stomach? Bread and wine nourish the physical body, which is heir to death. Is not the corporeal body food for worms—the eater becoming the eaten?"

The Benefits of Love and Respect for All

"Learn to respect one another. You are all conductors of God's blessings. And if you do not respect omebody, you deprive yourself of Divine Blessing. As much as you love people, you will benefit from the good. Whomever you may love, you benefit from that love.

“A good person is everyone who speaks the truth. You should all pray for one another, or think well for one another. When you meet somebody, wish them well.

“God lives in everything. His spirit is present even in the smallest being.

“You ask: ‘What should we preach to people?’ Tell them: ‘Without Love of God, life has no meaning. A sick man comes to you, tell him: Without Love of God, man cannot be healthy. You come to an ignorant man, tell him: Without Love of God, man cannot become learned. You come to a bankrupt merchant: Tell him: Without Love of God, trade will not go well.. Tell all the people: Without Love of God, life cannot be understood. ... Separation from God always produces suffering.”

~Evelyn Underhill

Respect One Another

Having respect for a person doesn't mean you have to agree with them, or even like them. It means you have to recognize that they are humans just like you, and they are not perfect any more than you are. If it was your child or a sibling who was behaving badly, you would not turn on them and refuse to love them. You want to change the behavior, but you still respect and live with the person. If you don't respect those who behave badly, you will not have the incentive to try to help them. We only try to help those we love and respect.

Conductors of God's Blessings

Yes, we are all conductors of God's Blessing, both taking in and giving out. If we expect to receive God's Blessing, we must share it by sending love and blessings to others. It doesn't weaken us by sharing love and energy with others.

Instead, it allows us to take in more energy until our energy centers are fully charged and link together to create a complete energy flow throughout the body and spirit. And if you have no particular person you want (or need) to show love and respect to, then just send love and respect out into the world to all including animals, plants, and all things.

Benefit from Good

We do benefit from the good we do. We benefit from the love and respect we have for others. I recently wrote about karma for the Cosolargy blog, so I won't repeat it here, but the main thing to know about karma is that it works both ways. Whether you do good or evil, what you do comes back to you. It may come back almost immediately, or it may take some time, but it always comes back.

God Lives in Everything

It is not true that God's presence is everywhere in the material world, but it is true that God Lives in everything because everything has a spirit, and each spirit is a tiny piece of God. That does not mean that we should proclaim that we are God. That attitude results in excessive ego, which is not a good thing. If the fingernail of your right thumb could talk, and it declared that it was you, you would laugh at it. It is just a tiny part of you. Likewise, each individual spirit is only a tiny part of God, and should not say that it is God.

Without Love

Underhill says that "Without love of God, man cannot be healthy." That is true if you understand that health is more than the health of your physical body. Complete health also means mental, emotional, psychic, and spiritual health. We are complex beings, and our health is a complex thing. We can improve our health on all levels by practicing respect and love for all. And if you truly love God, then you must love all, or at least all spirits, since we already mentioned that every spirit is a tiny piece of God. And what all spirits desire is to unite with God again. That is what the practice of Cosolargy is all about.

“Stephen Hawking’s famous black hole paradox may finally have a solution”

One of physicist Stephen Hawking's most famous paradoxes may finally be solved: Black holes may in fact hang onto information about the massive stars that created them, new research indicates.

This information may lurk in the radiation around black holes – colloquially known as “quantum hair” – and could, in theory, be retrieved to retell the origins of those black holes, the research suggests.
