Excerpt from On the Trail of the Feathered Serpent

Now I had an actual site to study. The walls emerged from out of the greenery as if by magic, and my eyes were struck by the mythological decorations incorporated into the stone work: winged figures, also with solar crowns, indicated that the sculptured monument was a ceremonial center, honoring the sun. When I saw the figure of a beautiful bird, probably a condor, on one of the walls I was certain this was so. An eagle represented the sun in Aztec monuments. The same idea was being conveyed here. Then, when I saw the aquatic signs above the medial molding of the structures, I thought of the ideas symbolized at the ancient city of Teotihuacán in Mexico. The step fret designs, angular spirals, zigzags, and aquatic signs adorning the white walls represented the terrestrial waters. The fire or solar signs represented heaven. Here was a perfect representation of divine duality, the Yin and Yang of Chinese mysticism.

Excerpt from Project X - The Search for the Secrets of Immortality

The materialistic interpretation of the universe that dominates the world today has devalued the mystic schools of thought. The scientific view is that the sun can be neither divine nor a manifestation of cosmic intelligence. The sun is incandescent, a sphere of energy. The world has forgotten the mystical interpretations of the scientific philosophers. Aristotle taught that man is begotten by man and the sun together. Plato said that the sky and the sun were man's instructors in wisdom. Remember the words of Plato when speaking of the One God, whom he called the Good; "The offspring of Good, which the Good begat in His own likeness, and Good are in relation to pure reason and its objects in the intelligible world, just as the sun in the visible world in relation to sight and its objects."

Excerpt from Project X - The Search for the Secrets of Immortality

Our research suggests that long and systematic exposure to sunlight not only enhances the sensitivity of the photoreceptors (rods and cones) in the retina, but somehow brings forth new ones able to register a creative energy contained within sunlight, which introduces new images into the medullary area of the brain and stimulates or brings about a higher consciousness. In our work we found that the pineal gland, located in the center of the brain, appeared to respond to the spectral characteristics of solar radiation, effecting biochemical changes. This appears to result in the development of a "third eye," which, unlike ordinary eyesight, produces a "vision" of its own.

Sunrise Service Live Streaming

We want to thank Consociates Michele Grief and Marilyn Taylor, who inspired the live Facebook video & audio streaming of the Divine Sunrise Service on Sunday mornings at the Consecrated Sanctuary, and Consociate Harold Boulette for the creation of the Cosolargy Forum on Facebook, where Consociates can exchange photos and post messages, which made the streaming possible.

Bishop Gene Savoy Jr. approached Consociate Dr. Stephan

Fuelling to look into the technical aspect of live streaming the Sunrise Service. Stephan then ordered a telescopic lens attachment, the APL-JS36X Smartphone Lens, which has a magnification of 36x. During the test run it became apparent that the Sun's intensity was too strong, and he ordered a variable neutral density filter, K&F Concept 37mm ND Fader, which he secured with double-sticky tape in front to the lens. This provided satisfactory results.

In order to capture the prayers from the officiating ministers officiating and the sound from the four crystal bowls (C, E, G, C) during Divine Sunrise Service, Stephan ordered four remote microphones, type Hotec UHF Wireless Headset Microphone/Lavalier Lapel Mic with Bodypack Transmitter and Mini Rechargeable Receiver with 1/4" Output. Two of these microphones were placed between each pair of crystal bowls, while the other two were placed where the liturgical readings were given. Furthermore, he used his existing pair of Marshall MXL840 microphones to capture the bell choir, harp, and keyboard. An eight-channel digital mixer, type Focusrite Scarlett Octo-Pre connected to a Windows 10 laptop, was used to mix the six audio channels into a live stereo stream. The output of the Scarlett mixer was connected to a Saramonic 2-Channel XLR & 6.35mm Guitar Audio Interface SmartRig+ Di Lightning Connector, which was then connected to Stephan's iPhone. This arrangement allowed for streaming the stereo sound from the ministers at the Communion Table and the bell choir during the Divine Sunrise Service with the live picture with the use of one iPhone to the Cosolargy Forum on Facebook.

We encourage all non-resident Cosolargy Members to sign up on the Cosolargy Forum on Facebook to “virtually” partake in the weekly Divine Sunrise Service and also to post pictures and comments related to the International Community of Christ.

Thank you all for participating!

Excerpt from Project X - The Search for the Secrets of Immortality – The Explorations

The reader may ask, "What does religion have to do with the Project X exploration/research program?" and, "What is the reason for the predominant emphasis on religion?" These questions are best answered by taking the reader back (...) to 1947 when Gene Savoy, who heads the project, was a university student preparing for a religious vocation.

Savoy was privileged to receive private tutoring from a Monsignor of the Catholic Church, Father John B. Delaunay, Jesuit priest and distinguished psychologist. The elderly priest took the twenty-one year old student under his wing because of an essay Savoy had shown him. The young man had presented the paper earlier to one of the professors, who had returned it marked in bold, red pencil. "You are close to heresy in the ideas expressed in this paper. Be warned!"

Father Delaunay believed that religion must take on a new role in the affairs of mankind and bring all men together. He recounted an episode that reinforced this belief. It occurred in India many years before. The Mahatma Gandhi had unexpectedly visited the Father at his mission to thank him for educating the children of the emerging nation. The Mahatma, accompanied by an entourage of dedicated followers, approached the priest and threw himself at his feet in gratitude. The Father was astonished, amazed at the humility displayed by the great spiritual leader of India. Gandhi told him he had faith that the human race would one day be unified under a new spirit, as reflected by Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount and in the Bhagavad Gita, the sacred Hindu text.

Excerpt from the Red Brochure Project X - The Search for the Secrets of Immortality

Only this incredible clarity kept me from surrendering to the form and to the urge to detach myself from my material body, which was slowly becoming transparent, like crystal, vibrating and oscillating like a spinning top. My eyes saw a world in transition, and it too was vibrant, crystalline. I could see through the trees and rocks to a world of another space and time. It wasn't all clear, but I was sufficiently aware of its existence to know that the material world was a kind of illusion, that there was more to it than anyone had ever suspected; actual force fields enveloped the material forms, and who was to say which was the true form? In that moment of suspended time I realized I was looking at my own true form and a new-found consciousness from somewhere deep within my being understood the meaning of life.

The whole mystery of life's purpose and direction was clear. Never had I experienced such a state of pure exhilaration. I saw, by some vision external to my physical form, my body resting against the rock, eyes open, staring into the sun. It was as if I were looking down at another being separate from my awakened consciousness. Then, like the pendulum of a clock, my reality swung back to my body and became aware of what was taking place. The rational mind took over, as if fighting for its own existence. Again I was looking at the golden figure before me. Now there was no fear or awe, but an understanding that the two forms, though of two sets of dimensions, were yet one, only occupying distinct places in time and being. For mounting seconds everything blurred; then with a great gasp I felt the breath return to my body. My heart began to pound like a pile driver.

Please Accept this GIFT OF LIGHT

During this time of “lockdown” caused by the Coronavirus, most people find themselves with more spare time for reading, while many are prompted to re-evaluate the purpose of their past pursuits and consider what they might do differently when the pandemic is over.

This is an opportune time to explore the teachings and system offered by Cosolargy International. You are invited to subscribe to the free, no-obligation monthly newsletter.

Those who do so now are eligible to receive a complimentary GIFT OF LIGHT, which consists of some sample sungazing principles and techniques. Eight lectures from an 18-part series of lectures titled “Project X: Secrets of Immortality” have been chosen to give you a glimpse of Cosolargy’s practices.

With the GIFT OF LIGHT, you will receive an email each week for the next four weeks with links to two audio files, recorded by the founder of Cosolargy, Gene Savoy Sr., some 40 to 50 years ago, which introduce you to some of the basic concepts of the system. Each audio file is about ten minutes long and contains esoteric knowledge known to the ancients that will help support your practice of the solar spiritual techniques that are included in the talks. You can listen to them whenever you choose and practice the spiritual growth techniques they contain.

The first two audio files introduce a central theme in Cosolargy: Light carries information, which we call Information Factors (IF). These Information Factors are a source of energy, knowledge, and act as nutrients to enhance our physical, psychic, and spiritual natures.

2019 Baja California Sur Impact Expedition

On November 15, 2019, the National Geographic Sea Lion, a ship designed to navigate narrow inlets and wildlife-rich passageways inaccessible to larger ships, embarked on a five-day expedition in the Gulf of California (Sea of Cortez) off Baja California Sur in an area known as Cabo del Este – the extraordinary East Cape of southern Baja. This is where Cosolargy International in 2017 purchased a 2.3-acre piece of beachfront property in the town of El Cardonal, just north of Los Barriles.

Love for the region eventually led to collaboration between members of the exploration and Cosolargy International.
