

“Are there Hidden Dimensions to the Universe? Part 1: Kaluza and Klein”

I always say that one of the things that separates real science from pseudoscience is that while in both you're allowed to say whatever crazy idea pops into your mind, in real science, you're obligated to take that idea seriously.

You can imagine a late evening. You're hanging out with friends. Spitballing some wild ideas. Maybe there are some illicit substances involved. Maybe all you need is a good wine and cheese pairing. And then you get a wild idea, and you feel bold enough to share it with the group: "Hey, everybody, listen. What if the universe had more dimensions?"

"Dark matter, not a black hole, could power Milky Way's heart"

- The Milky Way's center might contain a dense core of dark matter and not a supermassive black hole, as astronomers have long believed. That's the new result of a study released on February 5, 2026.
- The new model links the orbits of stars near the galaxy's center with that of stars at the outer edges of the galaxy.
- The results of the new study are based on the latest data from the European Space Agency's GAIA DR3 mission. Future studies with the Very Large Telescope will help test this new theory.

Shrines are Buried and the Whirlwinds Came “O great city, O heart of Egypt, your habitations are overthrown and your sacred shrines lie buried beneath the sands of time. The dust of ages enwraps you, as a dead one is swathed within the tomb. Your temples still stand and ring with noise, but the solemn shrines are silent. They have become an abode for the wild dog and scorpion, and your roads are highways of wickedness.

“Behold, in the days long gone down into dust, the whirlwind came and earth poured out her wrathful breath, so that you were burnt. The evildoers were swept away by the waters, and the wicked ones were swallowed up in the fires. The days of the years were shortened and the times of all things altered. The seasons were turned around, so that the seed rotted within the soil, and no green shoots came forth to greet the day. All buds withered upon the vines, the land lay dead under its grey shroud. The moon changed the order of her ways, and the sun set himself a new course, so that men knew not where they were and all were afflicted. The stars swam in a new direction, and the whole order of things was changed. Yet, O Egypt, even from those days of calamity you emerged unbroken, your spirit intact, your heart unshaken. What has happened to you, O land of mine?"

-The Kolbrin Bible (MAN:33:1-2)

Habitations Overthrown

It is unclear from this part of the Kolbrin Bible how habitations were overthrown, but it seems more likely that this is talking about a natural disaster rather than a war. Shrines lie buried because the great spiritual schools were shut down, probably by a corrupt, materialistic government. The writers of this part of the Kolbrin Bible are known to be Egyptian priests, but they may have written it while in another land, probably Greece.

Temples still Stand

The author is separating temples from shrines. Temples are probably the places approved by the corrupt government and attended by the general population who are not spiritual. Shrines are the ancient mystery schools that taught spiritual truth to a select few who were ready for such knowledge and would use it wisely.

Whirlwinds Came

This paragraph describes a great disaster. Besides whirlwinds, it says that wicked ones were “swallowed up in the fires”. It is unlikely that fires were able to distinguish evil people from good, but the author seems to be assuming only evil people still exist in Egypt. The additional information that follows tells us a lot more about exactly what kind of disaster we are talking about. We are told that the seasons were shortened and the seasons changed so that seeds rotted in the ground and buds withered on the vine. The movements of the moon and the sun changed, and stars moved in new directions.

There is only a few possible things that could have caused such changes:

- A large asteroid passing close to the Earth
- The Earth flipping over on its axis

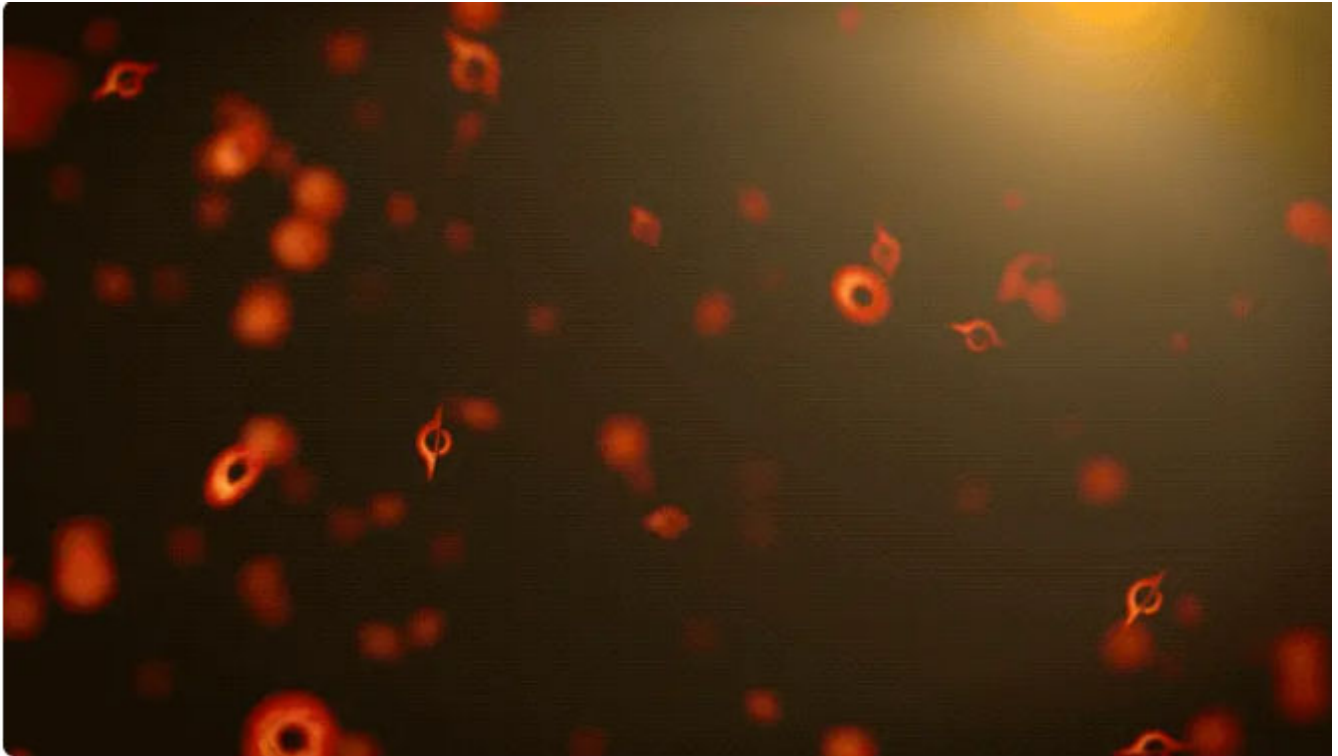

Since the quote doesn’t mention a strange body approaching Earth, it is most likely that it was the Earth flipping over. Science tells us that this happened only once, and that millions of years ago, but the records of ancient civilizations indicate otherwise.

Heart Unshaken

The quote ends with a positive note. We are told that despite this great calamity, Egypt survived. Its population was probably greatly reduced, yet it survived. I think the reason the author added this positive statement is to remind all who read the quote that even in the greatest disasters, there is hope for the future.

“Did we see a black hole explode? If so, it could explain a lot”

- An “impossible” ultra-high-energy neutrino – detected in 2023 – might have come from the explosion of a tiny primordial black hole.
- This led astronomers to a new dark-charge model. This model of primordial black holes could explain why one detector saw the high-energy event while another didn't.
- If confirmed, such explosions could reveal new particles, help verify Hawking radiation and potentially explain the nature of dark matter.

“JWST found a ‘dead’ galaxy that quit making stars billions of years ago”

Three billion years after the Big Bang, a massive galaxy already looked like it had run out of time. It spun in a calm, orderly disc, yet it had largely stopped making new stars. With the help of the James Webb Space Telescope and the Atacama Large Millimeter Array, astronomers now say they have one of the clearest early-universe examples of a “dead” galaxy, and a new clue about how galaxies can fade without a violent crash.

“Einstein–Rosen bridges are not wormholes but quantum links between opposite directions of time”

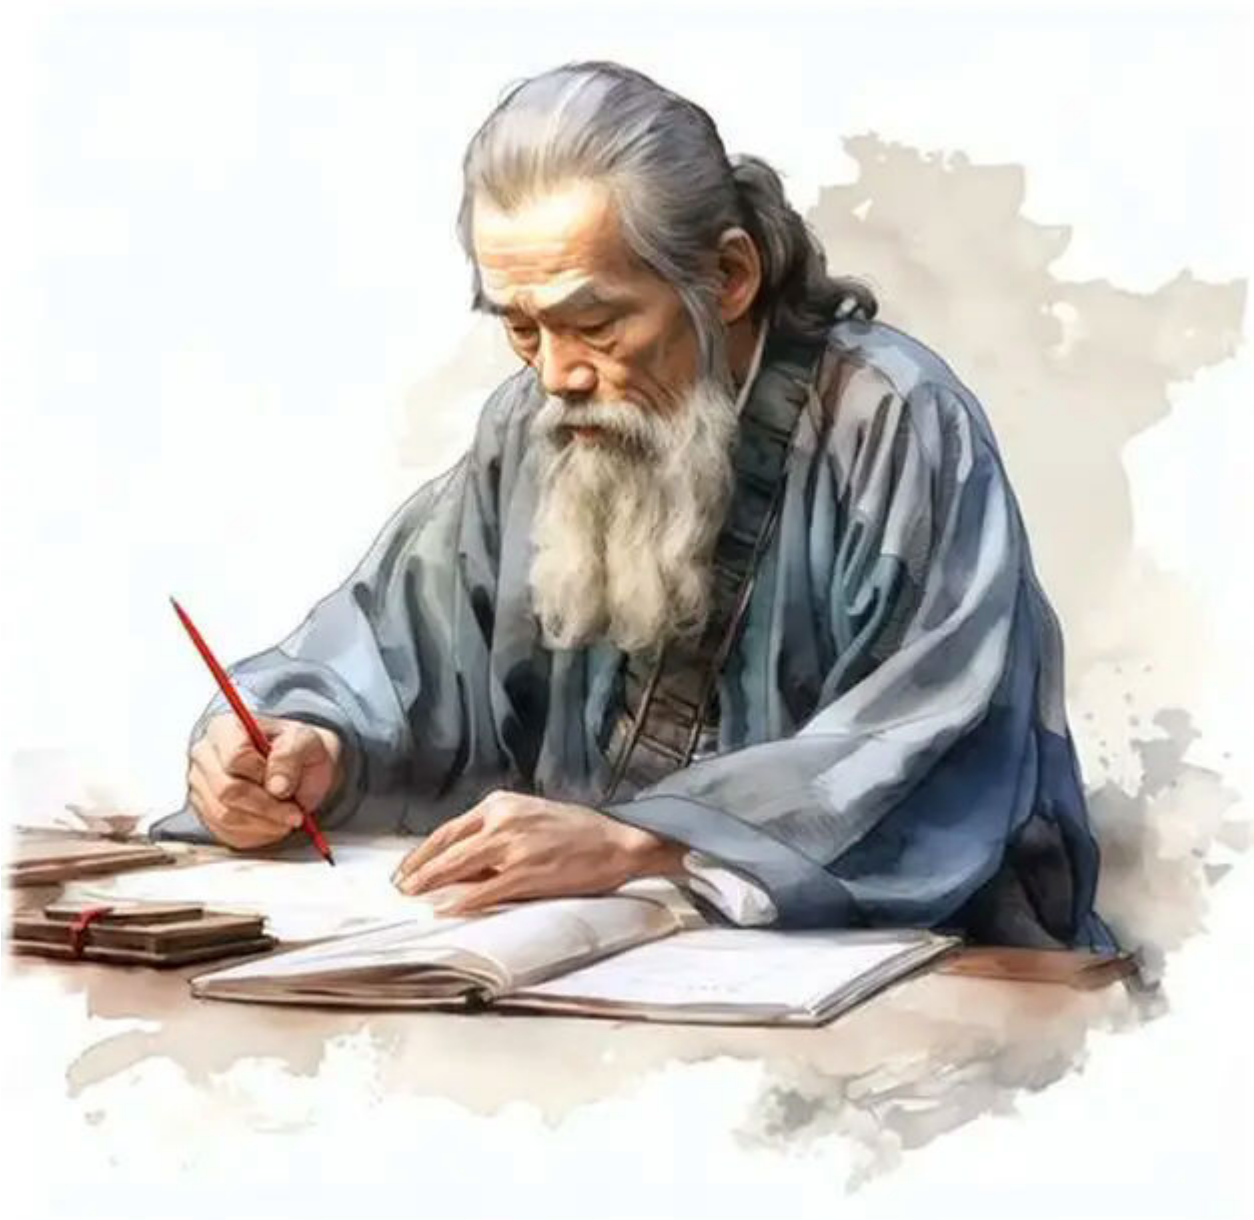

In an effort to bring together the domains of gravity and quantum theory, Albert Einstein and Nathan Rosen proposed a striking concept in a 1935 paper. In that work, they described an abstract mathematical structure they referred to as a “bridge” between two perfectly symmetrical regions of spacetime. Their goal was not to create a mechanism for traveling long distances in space, but rather to analyze the coexistence of matter, gravitational forces, and the extreme gravitational environments associated with such conditions.

Writings from the Days of the Wise Ones

"Odidef of Onekhefu found many scrolls from the olden times. The Inspector of Temples discovered writings from the days of the Wise Ones, many things from the past and utterances by Lords of the Kohar. He caused them to be copied and placed in the houses of record. Some were guarded from the eyes of men. The writings dedicated to the name of The Great God were sought out. Nekat, a scribe at Yano, wrote them down; they are set forth by his hand. They are not lost and will live when he and his sons and his son's sons rest in Morningland. He will abide in Amentuth in peace.

"The physician must know the courses of the Watchers. He must know their times and their comings and goings. He must know the secret of the Lord of Forms and the way of the Guide of Souls. He must know who are the Owners of Forms and who are the Formless Ones.

He must know their abode. He must know the road and the four ways of entry. He must know the nature of the double power. He must be a master at drawing forth the spirit. He must know the outside of man, the things which flow over it. He must know the inside man, the substances which fill it. He must know the heart, the muscles that move out from it, controlling every action of the body."

-The Kolbrin Bible (MAN:32:1-3)

Scrolls from the Olden Times

What the author considers the olden times is not clear, but we know that the writers of this chapter of the Kolbrin Bible are priests who came from Egypt and moved to some are to the north, probably Greece.

Writings of the Wise Ones

We can assume that these Wise Ones were the highest-level priests or teachers in the ancient temples of spiritual knowledge. As has been the tradition for thousands of years, only limited Spiritual Knowledge was ever put to writing. The most important knowledge was passed along orally from generation to generation.

They are not lost

The great teachings are not lost. They were, according to the author of this chapter of the Kolbrin Bible, will be kept safe until a future time when they can be understood again. Gene Savoy, Sr., brought much of that teaching back to us after much research and revelations. Yet, we have beentold that not everything has been revealed yet.

The Physician Must Know the Way of the Guide of Souls

While this may refer to one who heals physical ailments, I think it is primarily meant to mean one who cares for Spiritual illnesses, which is why the good physician must know the “way of the Guide of Souls”. He also must know who are the owners of forms and the formless ones. I think this line is considering forms to be physical in nature, although spiritual beings have forms also. So by that interpretation, God is the owner of the Formless ones, while the Demiurge is the owner of Forms. But even physical matter has some spirit in it, and now that we are in the End Times, it is gradually being changed back into its spiritual origin.

So study the writings of the Wise Ones, but also practice Spiritual Techniques. Studying alone isn't enough.

“Event Horizon Telescope probes source of 3,000-light-year-long black hole jet”

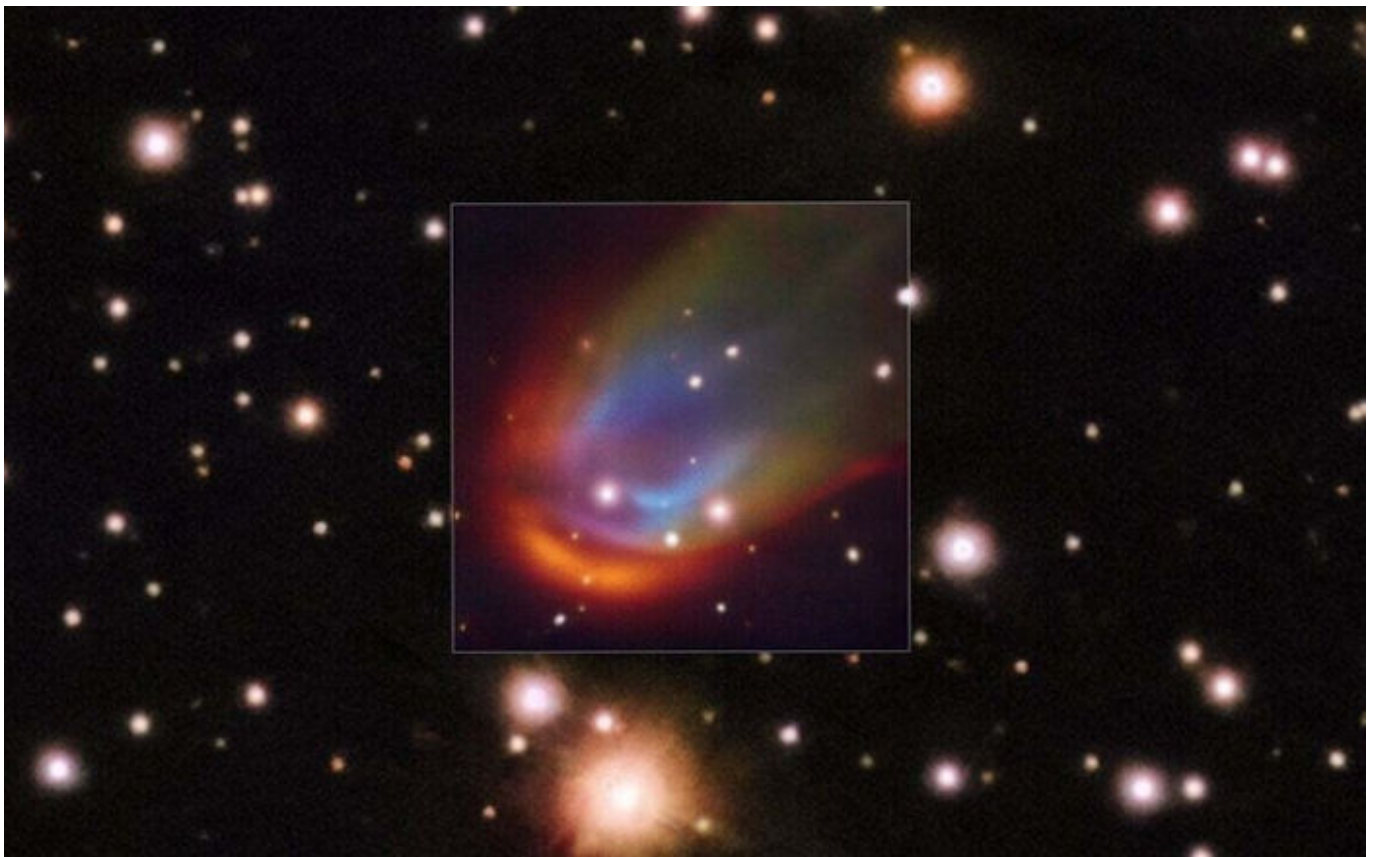

The Event Horizon Telescope (EHT) is a global collaboration of radio observatories famous for capturing the 1st direct visual evidence of a black hole. New EHT observations have now traced the origin of the powerful jet in the galaxy M87 to near the galaxy's central supermassive black hole.

The work links the famous bright ring seen by the Event Horizon Telescope with a compact region that likely marks the base of the jet.

Expanded telescope baselines – especially including the ALMA telescope in Chile – provided crucial detail.

“Astronomers spot an ‘impossible’ shock wave around a dead star system”

Astronomers at Durham University and collaborators at the University of Warwick used the European Southern Observatory's Very Large Telescope to spot something that should not exist: a bright bow-shaped shock wave wrapped around a compact dead star system called RXJ0528+2838. The finding suggests this tiny stellar remnant is pushing material into space far more strongly than current models allow.
