The Nevada Prayer Breakfast is a gathering of citizens — as well as civic, business, and community leaders — who wish to pray on behalf of our State and bring the spiritual resources of the community together to bear on issues that face Nevadans. Although members of the community may believe differently in their approach to the Divine, we gather at the interfaith Nevada Prayer Breakfast as equals. Together, we devote our energies to the good of the State of Nevada. Together, we pray.

The Nevada Clergy Association is a non-profit interfaith network of religious and spiritual leaders in Nevada. Programs include the Interfaith Spiritual Center at Renown Regional Medical Center, the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Service, the Nevada Prayer Breakfast, the Annual Interfaith Thanksgiving Eve Service, and the biannual Interfaith Clergy Luncheon.

The 2017 Vision Award to:

Dr. Anthony Slonim

Anthony Slonim, MD, DrPH, President and Chief Executive Officer of Renown Health, is an innovator and proven leader in healthcare on both the regional and national levels. During his notable career at major healthcare organizations and academic institutions, Dr. Slonim has developed a national profile as an expert in patient safety, accountable care, healthcare quality, and innovative care delivery models focused on improving health within the community. He is an academic leader and tenured professor with more than 100 publications, 15 textbooks and more than $2 million in National Institutes of Health funding to his name. He currently holds appointments as Clinical Professor in the Departments of Internal Medicine and Pediatrics at the University of Nevada, Reno School of Medicine.

Since joining Renown Health in July 2014, Dr. Slonim has completely reoriented northern Nevada's largest locally governed, not-for-profit healthcare network. He launched a five year strategic plan that is focused on the community's overall health while embracing the national triple aim initiatives of improving quality care and patient satisfaction — all while reducing costs. Dr. Slonim also ushered in a new era of national collaboration to establish a medical training campus at Renown, expand the region's quaternary care services in collaboration with Stanford Medicine, and launch the nation's first ever community-based, population health study with Desert Research Institute and personal genetics company 23andMe.

While effectively leading and managing the complexity of Renown, Dr. Slonim also manages to serve on the American College of Physician Executives board and was named the inaugural editor-in-chief of Physician Leadership Journal magazine. He chairs the Truckee Meadows Healthy Communities and Certified Medical Representatives Institute boards.

Dr. Slonim is being honored by the Nevada Clergy Association in gratitude for his work in fostering collaborative community partnerships, groundbreaking technology and innovative healthcare solutions, and for advancing spiritual wellness in the world of medicine.
