The Origins of Cosolargy

A Diary of the Origins of Cosolargy

Cosolargy's calendar marks the first arrival of its founder, Gene Savoy, Sr. in Peru on 14 April 1957. As an explorer, Savoy would go on to earn fame for his discoveries of Vilcabamba, Gran Pajatén, Gran Vilaya, Gran Saposoa, and forty other lost cities – not to mention his remarkable sea voyages on the Feathered

Serpent I, II and III – however, his initial archaeological mission to Peru in 1957 was far from plain sailing. The expedition was canceled for lack of financing, but he decided to stay on there for a while.

During the previous year (1956) Savoy's life had changed utterly. His business collapsed and took with it his home, his belongings, and his marriage. Fortuitously, his documentary film of Columbia River Gorge petroglyphs and carvings was picked up by a national news service, and his theories about similarities between North and South American picture drawings attracted the attention of an American archaeologist, who offered to take Savoy on an expedition to Peru as a photographer.

Eager to fulfill his dream of becoming an explorer, Savoy accepted and embarked on his adventure in early 1957. Thus began what would endure as a lifetime connection with Peru. A few years later he began to organize his own archaeological expeditions under the auspices of the Andean Explorers Club, which he founded and is now Gene Savoy Explorations under the auspices of Cosolargy International.

Gene Savoy wrote a number of books about his archaeological expeditions, including Antisuyo: The Search for the Lost Cities of the Amazon (1970), Vilcabamba: Last City of the Incas (1970), On the Trail of the Feathered Serpent (1974), and Project X: The Search for the Secrets of Immortality (1977). Noted for his larger-than-life persona, he was dubbed "the real Indiana Jones" by People magazine.

Spiritual Transformation of Humanity

"The aim of the System of techniques in our Church and Order is, as I keep reiterating, the transformation of humans to higher beings in contact with universal powers by means of higher states of Consciousness." Gene Savoy, Sr (Theological lecture)

There are many kinds of transformation. We see it all the time, though we may not think of it as such. When a child grows into an adult, that is a transformation. When a frog egg becomes a pollywog, then a frog, that is transformation. Even when an artist takes a block of stone and carves a statue from it, that is a type of transformation for the rock. But our concern here is for human transformation of the spiritual kind, and along with it, the spiritual transformation of the world, for the two must happen together. This transformation of Man and the world is what Cosolargy is all about.

"The System of Cosolargy. It is a religious Process of psychic and spiritual transformation with all the benefits of psychic healing and immunity to psychic diseases that are the result of psychic tension. What we are attempting is far ahead of what anyone else is doing in the area of psychiatry or medicine or psychology. Indeed we are perhaps twenty to fifty years, or maybe even a hundred years, ahead of the world in matters of methodology dealing with the psyche." ~Gene Savoy, Sr. (Theological lecture)

So spiritual transformation means turning away from materialism and developing the spiritual faculties that lie dormant in all of us. Real spiritual transformation is not just a new way of thinking, but a fundamental change of our entire being on all levels.

Events and Holidays: The Celebration of Easter

In the International Community of Christ, Church of the Second Advent, Easter is a fixed date in the Sacred Calendar. The Church celebrates True Easter each year on 18 April.

This date is celebrated in a twofold manner: firstly, we commemorate the spiritual resurrection of Jesus on this date in keeping with the solar calendar, which, unlike the lunar calendar used by the Catholic, Protestant and Orthodox churches, is fixed; secondly, we remember the Seven Revelations received atop the Seven Mountains of Metal by Bishop Gene Savoy, Sr. and the Opening of the Seven Seals on this date in 1982, an event that served to confirm the importance of 18 April in the Sacred Calendar of the Church.

The Second Advent Church, holding to the solar calendar of the Essenes, maintains that the date of Easter cannot be movable in present-day time reckoning, as it is under the lunar calendar (determined as the first Sunday after the first full moon of spring). The fixed Sacred Calendar of the Second Advent ministry recognizes that an annual alignment of the earth and sun, planets, stars, and the cosmos in general, makes this day cosmically important.

Cosolargy considers this day to be the day in alignment with the original date of the Resurrection. For these reasons, our Church keeps this date, 18 April, sacred.
